

Prunus serrulata Tai Haku

Great White Cherry

Prunus Tai Haku 25-30cm Std CG

Famed for its majestic pure white blossom, Prunus Tai Haku can be seen in many of Japan's historical and ancient artwork depicting Japanese landscape. Once believed to be extinct and the beautiful tree lost forever, it was found in the most unlikely of places - in a hobbyist's garden in Sussex, UK.

Prunus Tai Haku's brilliant white blossom is formed of single white flowers with not a hint of pink. The coppery green leaves that unfold after the blossom begins just accentuates the bright white bloom.

Once the blossom has ended the leaves turn a lovely bright green, eventually developing orange shades of gold during the autumn months.

The tree has a wide spreading canopy, usually wider than it is tall, making it a fantastic tree for larger gardens and public open spaces.

Plant Profile

Name: Prunus serrulata Tai Haku

Common Name: Great White Cherry

Family: Rosaceae

Height: 5-9m

Width: 8m+

Demands: Full sun, all aspect facing.

Soil: Moist but well-drained, Chalk, Clay, Loam and Sand.

Foliage: Bronze- green leaves

Flowers: Pure white single flowers.

Prunus Tai Haku 3.0-3.5m Multi Stem CG

Prunus serrulata Tai Haku

Great White Cherry

Japanese Proverb: 'The cherry is the first among flowers as the samurai is among men'

Prunus Tai Haku 25-30cm WRB

Prunus Tai Haku 20-25cm WRB